Long Pile Mohair - Koala

£486 per metre

One of our best-selling fabrics, George Smith Long Pile Mohair stands as a pinnacle of durability and resilience, boasting an impressive Martindale rub count of 80,000. Made from the finest mohair fibres, this natural material provides excellent warmth in winter and features cooling moisture-wicking properties in summer, making it a versatile choice for all seasons. The smooth fibres of mohair provide a distinctive shine and lustre, while its lightweight, soft texture adds a touch of luxury. With a range of 5 colour options, this colour palette has been chosen by Ilse Crawford and is inspired by nature's creatures. Valued for its flame resistance and sound absorbency, mohair is ideal for public spaces like theatres, hotel lobbies, and offices, as well as for homes. Its natural elasticity and crease resistance ensure that furnishings maintain their impeccable appearance over time, outlasting the competition.
